Information about Access Sport

Through the transformational power of sport, Access Sport tackles key issues such as obesity and social exclusion amongst young people in the UK. Working with a national network of community sports clubs, we offer both financial support and hands-on advice to ensure young people get an experience that makes a lasting difference.

Sport has the ability to inspire in the way that little else does. By 2009 Access Sport will be supporting 500 community sports clubs across 20 cities. By 2012 Access Sport will double its reach to 1 million young people making a major contribution not just to the delivery of the government's sport and coaching strategies, but to its effort to curb obesity and social inclusion issues. We need your support to make this a reality.
